2017 MARKS THE 110TH ANNIVERSARY of the School for Advanced Research (SAR). This year’s Speaker Series explores the ways in which SAR continues to support the intersections between indigenous thought, archaeology, anthropology, and ethics in the twenty-first century.

All discussions will be held at the School for Advanced Research, Eric S. Dobkin Boardroom at 660 Garcia Street, Santa Fe, NM 87505. These events are free and open to the public.

Wednesday, March 29, 2017  6:00 PM
Keynote Session—The History of SAR and its Relationship to Indigenous Peoples
In this keynote lecture, great-grandniece to early SAR board member Tsianina Blackstone (1932-1964) and a former SAR Board member herself (2006-2015), Dr. K. Tsianina Lomawaima, will discuss the development of SAR and its relationships with indigenous issues—including challenges and accomplishments—over the last century.

Wednesday, April 5, 2017  6:00 PM
Trailblazing an Indigenous Archaeology: New Methodologies
Moderator: Dr. Robert Preucel, Brown University/Haffenreffer Museum of Anthropology
Panelists: Joseph Aguilar, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Lindsay M. Montgomery, University of Arizona; Timothy Wilcox, Stanford University

Today, a new generation of archaeologists are redefining the possibilities of the field in a way that is revolutionary. The panel explores the current state of indigenous archaeology and new projects utilizing these methodologies.

Wednesday, April 12, 2017  6:00 PM
Lighting a Pathway: Community + Museum Guidelines for Collaboration
Moderator: Jim Enote, A:shiwi A:wan Museum and Heritage Center
Panelists: Kelly McHugh, Smithsonian’s National Museum of the American Indian; Ellen Pearlstein, University of California, Los Angeles; Landis Smith, Projects Conservator, Museums of New Mexico

In response to a growing interest in this work, an online resource for collaborative work has been developed over a three-year period of critical discourse among museum professionals, cultural leaders, artists, and scholars. The discussion explores the guidelines’ development process, plans for expanding the online resource, and its collective impact.

Wednesday, April 19, 2017  6:00 PM
At the Forefront of Repatriation: New Policy and Impact beyond the United States
Moderator: Brian Vallo, Indian Arts Research Center at SAR
Panelists: Kate Fitz Gibbon, JD, Fitz Gibbon Law; Honor Keeler, JD, International Repatriation Project; Gregory Smith, JD, Hobbs Straus Dean & Walker

Recently, lawmakers, museums, and tribal communities have been pushing government, auction houses, and collectors alike toward a more ethical treatment of sacred cultural belongings. This discussion delves into recent policy and proposed solutions beyond NAGPRA.

speakerseries.sarweb.org
505.954.7207 • iarc@sarsf.org